Japanese War Stories "Inspired," Is Growing Belief At White House

The feeling is growing at the White House that there are some powerful influences behind the agitation involving Japan in the Mexican situation. This feeling was strongly reflected today by Senator Stone of Missouri, a member of the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations, following a talk with the Pres-

"Unholy Purpose."

"It looks very much to me like somebody is agitating the Japanese matter for some unholy purpose," said the Senator at the White House today. "I cannot see why the interests of that country should have been brought into the Mexican situation, otherwise.

"As is well known, there have been persistent rumors of war between this country and Japan for years. They were circulated apparently to encourage the maintenance of a strong naval policy. I would not be surprised if it turned out that the present talk of connecting Japan with the Mexican troubles was inspired from the same powerful sources as the war talk in the past."

Just how far the President goes in sharing the Senator's views with regard to this view, is not known. It is known that the Senator came straight from the President's office and discussed the possibility that Japan was being used again to foster a sentiment in favor of stronger armament for this country.

"Japan Not Mentioned."

Senator Stone followed Senators Bacon and Burton in declaring that he had seen all the correspondence in possession of the President and that he had failed to find Japan mentioned in it except in one instance.

That was in the case of an American newspaper article in which Japan was mentioned and which had been reprinted in a Japanese paper. No other mention of Japan appeared, the Senator it came to light during the Stone in-review, however, that the reports the President had received on the Mexican troubles had not all come from the army and navy. Many of these reports came from officers of the Government working under the Treasury, Interior, and Commerce and Labor Departments. Agents from these departments were at work making investigations along with the army and navy officers, and the representatives of the Department

General Williams and Forty-seven Americans With Him Buried

MEXICAL, Mexico, April 11.-Burial of some of the insurgents who were slain in Gen. Stanley Williams' daring attack on Colonel Mayot's federals last Saturday afternoon, was completed here today.

Including Williams, who died in a hospital at Calexico, General Salinas, commanding the rebel forces here, buried thirty-four dead rebels with military honors.

It was announced by Salinas that Williams had succumbed to a terrible wound at the base of the brain, an exploding shell having torn away the en-tire back of the insurgent leader's head. Of the ninety-seven Americans under Williams who made the daring attack Mayot's 500, only fifty survived the conflict.

These escaped because Mayot failed to follow up his advantage after routing the insurgents. Eleven of the other forty-five fied across the American border and are now held prisoners by the United States military forces. The forty-four who fell wounded on the batlefield were all slain by Colonel Mayot's to Be Hardship on Team Drivers.

WASHINGTON TIMES BUREAU.

ALEXANDRIA, VA., APRIL 11. At a largely attended meeting of the Alexandria chamber of commerce last vening, the matter of ferry rates between this city and Washington was consideration being given to the rates for the transportation of vehicles. The members feel that this matter is of especial importance to the commerce of Alexandria. The present rate for an unloaded one-horse wagon and driver cents, while an empty two-horse team with driver is 75 cents; loaded $1. In many cases it is felf that these rates might almost be considered prohibitive, the merchant probably preferring to drive over the road to the Capital, rather than patronize the ferry, and as the principal revenue is derived from this source, a more equitable adjustment is urged.

An invitation was extended to C. Ver-non Ford to hold future meetings rela-tive to the erection of the overhed bridge at Telegraph Crossing in the rooms of the chamber.

Appropriate resolutions of respect to the memory of the late J. R. N. Curtin, president of the Alexandria Iron Works, vere adopted. The Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company was admitted to membership in the body. Full committees for the ensuing year were then named by the president.

Testimony was heard in police court this morning from various persons concerned in the free for all fight on North Lee street Saturday night, in which Coleman Joyce, a soldier from Edsalls Station was badly beaten, and S. L. Brown and William A. Smith soldiers from Fort Hunt, were locked up, accused of inflicting the injuries. It appeared from the evidence that all concerned were intoxicated, and that in a fight over a cigarette, Joyce Testimony was heard in police court all concerned were intoxicated, and that in a fight over a cigarette, Joyce was struck over the head by Brown with a quart bottle of whisky. Justice Thompson imposed a fine of $10 on Brown, and $5 on Smith, stating that he believed that Joyce had already received sufficient punishment. Other cases disposed of in police court were: Mrs. James Lee, disorderly conduct, $5; John, alias "General" Grayson, and Nellie Grayson, both colored, $5 each, disorderly conduct: Raymond Sutton, a white boy, charged with throwing stones at the house of Lucy Schafe, $5. The case against James Wade, drunk and disorderly, and William Doherty, same charge were both dismissed. were both dismissed.

About twenty candidates are expected to be on hand, and will be inducted into the mysteries of the ofder with full ceremony. The potentate particularly requests that the condidates he on hand by 7 o'clock or candidates be on hand by 7 o'clock, or earlier, in order that the perilous jour-ney over the hot sands may be started as early as possible, and extends his personal assurance to them that absolutely nothing in the Shrine work will be omitted. The ceremonies will take be omitted. The ceremonies will take place in Elks Hall, Prince and Royal streets. Members of Almas Temple, of Washington, are invited to participate.

No Senate Committees Before Next Week

Indications now are that the Senate committees will not be made up until next week. Senator Gallinger has not yet completed the assignments on the Republican side as chairman of the Committee on Committees, and these, Committee on Committees, and these, when made, will have to be threshed out by the entire committee.

Senator Martin, the Democratic minority leader, has not yet announced the Democratic Committee on Committees.
